Opening of The Duke of York Theatre

Epsom College Names the Auditorium in Honour of HRH The Duke of York, KG

Bandar Enstek, 29 June 2016 — Epsom College in Malaysia was honoured to receive Prince Andrew, The Duke of York today. His Royal Highness spent a few hours at the College, touring the library, one of the chemistry labs and tried his hands at Chinese calligraphy during a Mandarin lesson.

The Duke of York was also briefed about the progress at Epsom College in Malaysia by the Headmaster, Martin George and the Chairman of the Board of Governors of Epsom College in Malaysia, Tan Sri Dr Tony Fernandes.

The highlight of the visit was the naming of the auditorium at the College. HRH unveiled a plaque to mark the renaming of the 594- seat auditorium as The Duke of York Theatre.

In his address, The Duke of York said that British education is one of the best British exports, in which students are challenged and cared for at the same time. HRH commended the College for successfully bringing the ethos of Epsom College in the UK to the Malaysian campus.

“You have done well in establishing the tradition as the first cohort of students, teachers, staff and parents of the College,” added The Duke of York.

“We are delighted that HRH The Duke of York visited the College and was able to meet our children and staff. When he addressed the College it was clear that he had gained a very positive impression of all that has been achieved in our first two years. We are honoured to rename our auditorium, which is now called The Duke of York Theatre”, concluded Mr George.
